Today it is no surprise to hear the phrase "Slava Ukraini!" (Glory to Ukraine) in the streets. However, the reaction to it may be different. Someone will cheerfully respond, "Heroyam slava!"...

The current Ukrainian flag consists of two horizontal bands of yellow and blue, the colors represent the wide blue skies and the yellow represents the wheat fields that characterize the country. From a psychological point of view, blue symbolizes calm, while yellow symbolizes joy.

The battle flag of the UPA was a red-and-black banner. The flag continues to be a symbol of the Ukrainian nationalist movement. The colours of the flag symbolize red Ukrainian blood spilled on the black Ukrainian earth.
